

THE WORD IS THE QUEEN OF THE WORLD (AUT. 449)

On the evening of that day, the first day after the Sabbath, the doors were locked where the disciples were, because of their fear of the Jews, but Jesus came and stood in their midst. He said to them, "Peace be with you"; then he showed them his hands and his side. The disciples kept looking at the Lord and were full of joy. Again Jesus said to them, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you." After saying this he breathed on them and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit; for those whose sins you forgive, they are forgiven; for those whose sins you retain, they are retained."

REFLECTIONS TO FEED OUR RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD

"Fear": It is a key word in this gospel. The fear of speaking about God, the fear of announcing the Good News, of communicating to others the message of happiness that Jesus offers us. But we also feel strengthened by another key word: "Peace." The one that Jesus gives us with his breath, with his teachings and with his strength, so that through the Holy Spirit we feel the impulse to "preach in the world" overcoming those fears, on the certainty that God lives in us and that our Words come from his spirit of love.

REFLECTIONS TO FEED OUR MISSION IN THE WORLD

We are in times of doubt, and inconsistencies, where talking about God is increasingly difficult, and where more problems than solutions are imposed. But despite all that we are sent to sow, not reap; to let God's message will making a dent in the world, although the fruits of a sudden can not see. Let us feel protected by the Holy Spirit who is the one who gives us the strength to bring to the world that message of love, of happiness, that Jesus taught us and that was given to us to share with the world, and above all those who truly they need.
